'IKE · ONE THING TO REMEMBER

The land breathes in at noon.

Dawn is glassy because land and sea sit near the same temperature. On a heat-warning day the mesas bake fast, hot air rises, and cool ocean air rushes in to replace it. That is the NW sea breeze, and today NWS has it arriving by 10 to noon. Surf before the land wakes up.

WHERE IT'S WORKING

PB north of pier

★ The call. Dead glass (LJAC1 NNW ~1 kt), 13s SW ground on the sandbars, and the 7:35a high draining toward the 1:02p low. Score 0.86. Paddle out around 8 and get it before the NW sea breeze fills in late morning.

CALL

2 PB Drive

Also fine, same 0.86 on the home stretch. Same window.

ALT

3 Calumet

Score 0.77. SW angle is right, but the tide is way too full for the reef right now (obs 5.7). It gets better toward late morning, just as the NW shows up.

SOFT

4 Tourmaline

Score 0.72. High-tide mush on a 5.7 ft observed tide. Longboard only if you must.

SKIP

Scorecard 0.96 loves 13s SW + glass, but the tide peaks at 7:35a and falls all morning toward L 1.8@1:02p (never CALL LP through a low), and ground is only ~2.0 ft. Skip it.

- Skip · PB Point is undersize on this SW (0.45). Cliffs (Garbage, Abs, Luscomb's) aren't clearer than PB on 2 ft ground with a full tide. OB Pier wants NE offshore plus a thicker SW, not this. Evening high 5.5@6:56p comes after the ~6:28p sunset with NW ~9 kt wind until 5p, so no evening call. Scripps and Blacks aren't local.

Go 8a through 11a. Morning high H 4.6@7:35a, then a steady drain to L 1.8@1:02p, then up to H 5.5@6:56p. Observed 5.7 ft @ 6:42a, about +1.3 ft over the table, so the first hour is fat and it gets better as it drops. LJAC1 NNW 330° ~1 kt @ 6:12a PT (glass). NWS grid calm through 9a, NW ~4 kt 10-11a, NW ~9 kt noon-5p, N ~4 kt early evening. Sunrise ~6:46a, sunset ~6:28p.

SKIP

Little Point on a falling tide toward the 1p low (and only 2.0 ft ground). PB Point on this SW. Calumet and Tourmo while the tide is this full. Cliffs aren't clearer. OB Pier isn't the NE-offshore recipe. NW wind after 11. Anything after dark.

GOTCHAS

NWS Extreme Heat Warning through Thu 8p (grid ~85-86°F at the beach by late morning), so bring water and sunscreen. Rip risk is moderate today. A Beach Hazards Statement starts 4p today through Fri for building S-SW surf (NWS 3-5 ft, sets 6 on south-facing beaches), and a Coastal Flood Advisory starts 6a Wed. Tide is running ~+1.3 ft over the table. Pier crowd.
