GERRY BOT COWABUNGA REPORT · FRI NOV 6 · NORTH PB

A softer day in your zone: paddle out at PB north around nine thirty as the very full tide drops, or drive Blacks if you have about three hours. It stays glassy to light

H 5.8 @ 6:50a · L 0.1 @ 1:28p · H 4.2 @ 7:31p · obs 6.8 @ 5:54a

PB north of pier from about 9:30 to 11:30a on the Anvil twin; Blacks 9:30a to noon if you have about 3 hours. Table tides: H 5.8 @ 6:50a, L 0.1 @ 1:28p, H 4.2 @ 7:31p. The gauge read 6.772 ft at 5:54a, about 1.0 to 1.3 ft over the table (SRF says observed 1.3 to 1.6 over), so the early high is swampy. LJAC1 was SE–SSE about 1 to 4 kt around 5a. NWS hourly has NE 5 mph at 6–

7a, N 5 at 8a, calm 9–10a, NW 5 at 11a–noon, and NW 10 from 1p. PZZ740 calls variable under 10 kt becoming NW 10 to 15 kt this afternoon.

Where it's working

PB north of pier · 9:30–11:30a

LOCAL soft option. 46258 SwH 0.9 m (3.0 ft) at 16.7s SW plus a W windsea around 3.3 ft at 9s, SRF 2 to 4 ft with sets to 5 — right in your waist-to-shoulder zone on the Anvil. Light SE–SSE early, calm 9–10a, then only NW 5 until noon. Scorecard live 0.81; forecast at 9:30a 0.80–0.82 range on the drop. Open-beach Drive can still throw closeouts on the long-period S pulses, so the pier-north sandbar is the softer home pick.

CALL

Blacks · 9:30a–noon, worth the drive (~3 h)

BEST overall. Live scorecard 0.91 clears LOCAL by the drive margin (0.81 + 0.05). Canyon can punch the same swell up a notch, but SRF sets to 5 keep it in Anvil range — you had fun there 10/31. Maps: Torrey Pines Gliderport, 2800 Torrey Pines Scenic Dr. Budget the hike and shorebreak.

BEST

Also fine · Tourmaline ~10:30a–noon

Once the very full 6:50a high drains further, Tourmaline softens into rolling mush. Scorecard climbs late morning (Tourmo/Calumet ~0.98 at 11a). Longboard crowd.

ALSO OK

Skip · anything before about 9a on the swampy high tide, Little Point (drowned early, then falling), open-beach Drive closeouts if the S pulses punch, and everything once NW 10 fills in around 1p.

QUIVER

Anvil twin fish

Waist to shoulder soft is Anvil territory. SRF sets to 5 stay in your zone at both PB north and Blacks; the canyon can punch up a notch but you had fun there on 10/31.

TW log · fine for the inside reforms, but too much size on the sets today

'IKE · ONE THING TO REMEMBER

Why the tide still runs high.

The tide table only knows the moon and sun. Real water also rises with warm water, low air pressure and onshore setup, and right now La Jolla is reading over a foot above the table. Add the table highs near 6 ft and the real morning highs land past 7 ft, which swamps the sandbars. So time sessions off the live gauge, and wait for the drop.

SKIP

The swampy early high tide everywhere. Little Point (drowned early, falling later). Open-beach Drive closeouts on the long-period S pulses. Everything once NW 10 fills in around 1p.

GOTCHAS

Size: SRF 2 to 4 ft with sets to 5 on mixed 280° and 200° swell — in your soft waist-to-shoulder zone, but sit wide for the longer S pulses. King-tide pattern: the La Jolla gauge is running 1.3 to 1.6 ft over predictions and NWS has a coastal flood advisory through noon Tuesday, so the beach is narrow and backwashy near the high. Moderate rip current risk today (NWS SRF); HIGH rips Saturday. Blacks: hike from the gliderport, shorebreak, rips, and canyon crowds. Tourmaline: packed with longboards, watch for loose boards.
